

App Development with Swift Certifications Frequently Asked Questions

What are the new Apple certifications called?

App Development with Swift Associate and App Development with Swift Certified User certifications align to the learning objectives from the Develop in Swift Explorations (Associate) and Develop in Swift Fundamentals (Certified User) books found on the Apple Book Store. Or visit, apple.co/developinswift

When will the new App Development with Swift certifications be available?

App Development with Swift Certified User is available now.
App Development with Swift Associate will be able Summer 2021.

What are these new App Development with Swift certifications based on?

The new App Development with Swift certifications are based on the Develop in Swift Explorations (high school) and Develop in Swift Fundamentals (higher education) courses and Xcode 12 to help students stand out for high-demand jobs in iOS app development.

What do these certifications recognize?

App Development with Swift certifications convey that students are ready to take the next step in becoming app developers and have knowledge of Swift.

What does App Development with Swift Associate certification demonstrate?

High school or non-majors higher education students who pass the App Development with Swift Associate exam exemplify knowledge of key computing concepts and a solid foundation in programming with Swift. They'll demonstrate knowledge of the impact of computing and apps on society, economies, and cultures while exploring iOS app development.

What does App Development with Swift Certified User certification demonstrate?

Higher education students who pass the App Development with Swift Certified User exam demonstrate fundamental iOS app development skills with Swift. They'll have knowledge of core concepts and practices that Swift programmers use daily and build a basic fluency in Xcode source and UI editors. Students will be able to create iOS apps that adhere to standard practices, including the use of stock UI elements, layout techniques, and common navigation interfaces.

Will learning content be available for these two new certifications?

Yes. The App Development with Swift Associate exam is based on the Develop in Swift Explorations course for high school students and the The App Development with Swift Certified User exam is based on the Develop in Swift Fundamentals course for higher education students. The Develop in Swift curriculum follows a practical, step-by-step approach to learning iOS app development, tools, and basic programming concepts using Swift.

For more information, click here.

Will practice tests be available for these two new certifications?

Yes. CertPREP Practice Tests, powered by GMetrix is the practice test solution for Apple. CertPREP Practice Tests are customizable, allowing you to create a highly-effective environment conducive to student-centered learning. CertPREP Practice Tests offer two different modes, training and testing.

For more information, click here.

Will App Development with Swift Level 1 be retired?

The Apple App Development with Swift Level 1 exam was aligned to Xcode 9 and the App Development with Swift course from the previous book collection and will be retired on June 30, 2022.

If you currently have licenses for the App Development with Swift Level 1 exam, you can use your licenses for the App Development with Swift Certified User now or App Development with Swift Associate exams starting this summer. Current customers should direct any questions about exam licenses to your Certiport Sales Representative.

APP DEVELOPMENT WITH SWIFT
Associate

APP DEVELOPMENT WITH SWIFT
Certified User